FIND LOU GEHRIG INFANTILE VICTIM

NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—Ed Barrow, president of the New York Yankees, announced today that Lou Gehrig is suffering from chronic infantile paralysis and probably will never play baseball again.

Barrow's statement came after Gehrig had turned over to him the formal report made by Mayo Clinic experts. Gehrig had spent several days in the clinic in order to have a thorough check made of his physical condition.

Barrow said Gehrig apparently had been suffering from the ailment for two years and that only his remarkable physique had enabled him to play.

WILL GET PAY

The veteran will be continued on the Yankee payroll for the rest of the season at least, and will remain as non-playing team captain. After his conference with Barrow, Gehrig left for the clubhouse to don his uniform.

Barrow said he understood from the physicians' report that the disease could be checked and that in any event it probably would not get worse.

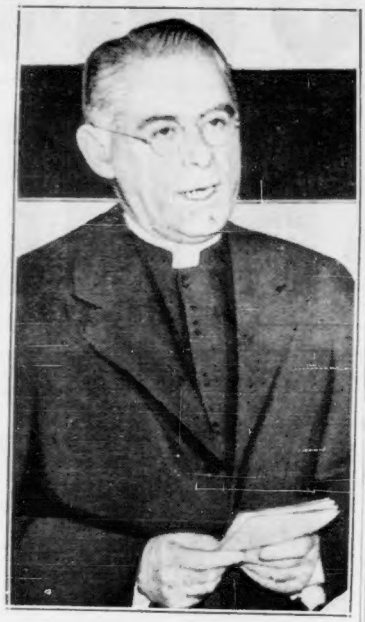
The Yankee leader obviously was broken up as he made the announcement. Gehrig long has been one of his favorite players.

Barrow said that the first baseman would not play again this year but indicated there was an outside possibility he could return to the game eventually. Gehrig was 36 years old on Monday.

PLAYED 2130 GAMES

The one-time great first baseman had been worried about his condition all year. After making a bad showing in the field and at bat during the early part of the season, Gehrig voluntarily benched himself on May 2, thus ending his consecutive games streak at 2130 games.

He sat on the bench for several weeks, but could not regain his strength. Finally he decided to put himself in the hands of experts to determine just why he had lost his baseball form so suddenly. His trip to the clinic followed.



CHARGING one of his South Boston parishioners "is not fit to conduct a liquor business" and demanding his license be revoked, the Rev. Patrick J. Waters today told the licensing board that police were served in the place. The tavern keeper denied the charges, declaring that no policeman had ever been served a drink in his establishment.

South Boston Priest Voices New Police High Jinks Charges

New details of alleged police high jinks and tippling in South Boston were furnished today by the Rev. Patrick J. Waters, pastor of St. Brigid's Church, as Police Commissioner Timilty ordered a thorough and complete probe of the charges.

At the same time the militant priest declared he was "quite amused" to read the report of the police commissioner "with regard to the presence of two police officers in a barroom in the South Boston district last Monday morning."

TOOK OFFICERS OUT

Yesterday the priest, appearing before the Boston Licensing Board, sought revocation of a tavern license in South Boston and charged policemen have been seen entertaining drunken women in automobiles and that two policemen, drinking in the tavern in their shirtsleeves, were taken out by two other officers.

In a statement, Commissioner Timilty said a report made to him was that the two policemen in the tavern were merely eating.

To the Boston Evening American, Fr. Waters said:

"I wish to say that I was quite amused to read in the morning papers a report of the police commissioner with regard to the presence of two police officers in a barroom in the South Boston district last Monday morning.

"These police officers left their coats, hats, badges, and perhaps their guns, somewhere around Marine Park, walked up to East Sixth street and entered the barroom, not the restaurant.

"Police officers in plain clothes came in 15 minutes and practical-

Kicks Win Wife Her Divorce

Two weeks after their wedding, her husband kicked her because their bedroom alarm clock failed to ring, young, attractive Mrs. Lucretia "Laurie" Collins of Medford testified today.

She won an uncontested divorce in Suffolk probate court from Henry Collins, an office manager, of Jamaica Plain. She told Judge John V. Mahoney:

"After the time my husband quarreled with me about the alarm clock, he frequently kicked me, slapped me, punched me and choked me.

"He called me names almost every day."

The witness said she and her husband were married in September, 1936. They have no children.

JAPS TAKE PORT IN CHINA UNDER U. S. SHIP GUNS

HONG KONG, June 21 (INS)—Crushing Chinese opposition in a five-hour battle, Japanese army and navy landing forces today occupied the south China port of Swatow almost under the guns of the United States destroyer Pillsbury.

In a stunning surprise offensive designed to cut off Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's flow of war supplies, from 300 to 500 bluejackets and soldiers, backed by warships' guns, landed on either bank of the Swatow river at 4 a. m.

At 9 a. m. it was announced that "after considerable resistance" the Japanese achieved their objective," and another port was added to those in China controlled by the Nipponese.

Transports filled with more troops then sailed up the river as warships occupied the Swaton harbor.

In a pincers movement, meanwhile, two other Japanese columns pushed inland on both sides of the city, aiming to encircle Swatow and cut the railroad leading to Chaochow—said to be one of the main sources of war supplies for the Chinese.

The Pillsbury stood by to protect the handful of Americans in Swatow.

LONDON, June 21 (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Britain had made it clear to Japan she would take necessary steps to assure adequate food supplies for British subjects in the blockaded British concession at Tientsin.

Chamberlain said Japan also had

Torrid Wave Hits Boston With Summer

With temperatures soaring through the mid-80's toward a possible high for the season thus far, Boston prepared to say goodby to spring today.

Summer makes its official bow here when the sun rises at 5:40 o'clock tomorrow morning.

At that time, Old Sol will reach his "farthest north" of the year and will begin his annual southern journey, marked by shortening days and lengthening nights.

And the shortening days of the next two or three months are apt to be hottest of the year, the weather man said.

Grandma Swaps Her Mate With Neighbor

COLUMBIAVILLE, Mich., June 21 (INS)—Two rural wives, one a grandmother, the other a slim woman of 27, today disclosed a friendly swap of husbands. They also divided up 14 children, each taking seven.

A cow was moved from one home to the other to supply the younger children with fresh milk.

Here's the lineup:

Mrs. Mildred Davis, 27, mother of four girls, is keeping house in the one-room farmhouse of Clarence June, 42.

Mrs. Edith June, 47, mother of 12, is keeping house in Columbiaville for George Davis, 45.

DIVORCES PLANNED

Mrs. Davis is caring for her four little girls and three of the June children, Clarence, Claire and Herbert, all needed to help work the farm.

Mrs. June is keeping seven of her own children. Two of Mrs. June's daughters are married and don't figure in the deal.

Living two miles apart, the two families are maintaining friendly relations.

As yet there has been no divorce, but June and Mrs. Davis plan to file suits and later there will be a double wedding.

Mrs. Davis explained the set-up, saying:

"We're all perfectly happy. I love Clarence and that is all there is to it. George, my husband, is perfectly happy, too.

"It all happened quite suddenly. Edith, Clarence, George and I have been close friends since last December. We went to dances and parties together.

EVERYBODY IS HAPPY

"Our children played together. We did our washing together because we, that is, George and I, lived in Columbianville and I had an electric washing machine.

"Then two weeks ago we agreed that we loved each other—that is George and Edith and Clarence and I. So Edith went over there to keep house for George until the divorces are granted, nad I came here.

"We're keeping everything straight and honest and I know the four of us will be happy this way. The neighbors have gossiped, (there was some talk of circulating a petition against the two families) but we are just honest about this thing."

Mrs. June said:

"You must understand. My married daughter is living here andeverything is as it should be. The neighborhood has been up in arms but there is nothing to get excited about.

"The neighbors wanted to tar and feather us at first, until they understood. My friends here need have no fear that we are misbehaving."

Babes in Court Try To Reconcile Parents

Dashing from parent to parent, two little children in Judge John V. Mahoney's court today sought in their own way to end the breach which has split their home.

First it was Louise. She is just three. Arms outstretched, she ran to her daddy, then back to her mother, who sat strangely silent. Then it was Vincent. He's all of six, and quite a man. And he, too, moved from one to the other.

But the parents, Domenic La Court, of Prince street, North End, and Mrs. Tina La Court, of Leydon street, East Boston, were obdurate. He had a divorce petition which was denied. She had filed a separate support petition, which had been thrown out also. So both had sued for the children's permanent custody.

The case was scheduled for late today.

Mental Patient Flies by Plane

DETROIT, June 21 (INS)—A psycopathic patient who was to have been admitted to a hospital this afternoon hopped a Pennsylvania Airlines plane for Cleveland today.

The patient, Hyman Wagman, 26, under observation for several years, fled his home after Dr. Roy S. Gilbert gave him a hypodermic to quiet him.

Wagman drove to the airport, with members of his family following. He arrived in time to buy a ticket and board the plane before his family could stop him.

Dr. Gilbert said Wagman never has been violent, but that the excitement of the escape and plane ride may affect him.

'Sacrifice' Baby Dies of Wound

CHARLEROIT, Pa., June 21 (AP)—A 19-month-old baby girl, who State Motor Patrolman J. C. Conway said, was shot by her father as a "sacrifice," died today in a hospital.

Patrolman C. L. Turk reported the father, Clair Young, 35-year-old miner and part-time evangelist, would be charged with murder.

Young had been held on a district attorney's detainer since the child, Ada, was wounded Monday.

Conway said Young told him he fired at the baby as she crawled toward him because:

"I felt I had to sacrifice in the eyes of the Lord in order that I may go to heaven."

Campaign Renewed To Bring Duke Back

LONDON, June 21 (INS)—On the eve of the return of King George and Queen Elizabeth to Southampton aboard the Empress of Britain, the Daily Express today renewed its campaign to bring the Duke of Windsor back to England. An editorial in the Express urged a royal reunion, to include the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, pointing out that the time for the Duke's exile is at an end.

RADCLIFFE GIRL WEDS, GRADUATES

A few hours before her graduation with high honors from Radcliffe College today, Elena Zarudnaya, 26, daughter of a once-wealthy and noble Russian family, became a bride at Cambridge City Hall.

The bridegroom was Harry Tuckman Levin, brilliant young Harvard fellowship holder and instructor.

WEDS AND GRADUATES

In contrast to the colorful romance it culminated, the wedding ceremony was in prosaic civil setting.

When City Clerk Fred H. Burke of Cambridge opened his office at 9 a. m., Miss Zarudnaya and her fiance were waiting in the corridor.

With them was a small group of relatives, including the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Levin of Minneapolis.

As soon as the marriage had been performed by City Clerk Burke, newly-weds and guests went to the bride's home in Harvard street, Cambridge.

There was time only for a hurried wedding breakfast. Then the bride had to change from her white gown to mortar-board cap and black graduation robe in order to receive her Radcliffe degree.

WON COLLEGE HONORS

A member of Phi Beta Kappa and one of the highest ranking students of her class, she was singled out for special distinction at the commencement exercises.

Later today, she and her husband planned to leave Cambridge for a honeymoon in Vermont.

Born in Latvia, Russia, the bride received her preparatory education in Manchuria, China, where her parents fled after the Soviet government came into power.

Levin, the bridegroom, was graduated from Harvard in 1933. He previously won Harvard's Bowdoin prize for scholarship, one of the university's most coveted honors.

DAHL ASKS AID OF U. S.

SALAMANCA, Spain, June 21 (AP)—Harold Dahl, American aviator who was sentenced to death by the Nationalists after his capture two years ago but won a commutation of sentence from Generalissimo Franco, has asked the United States embassy to effect his release.

He is in Salamanca provincial hospital where he is being held prisoner.

Interviewed by Earl Craim, third secretary of the embassy, Dahl said, "I have no complaint about my treatment here. On the contrary I have been well treated, but I am tired and would like to leave Salamanca as soon as possible."

He said he did not know the reason of his continued detention, although most American prisoners have been released or exchanged.

Craim questioned him particularly concerning his American citizenship.

Dahl said he was anxious to see his musician wife who is now in Athens, Greece. Mrs. Dahl personally appealed to General Franco in 1937 to save her husband's life following the military trial in which he was sentenced to be shot for flying with the Spanish republican air force.

ASK STATE PROBE DOLL GIRL DEATH

NESQUEHONING, Pa., June 21 (INS)—Leaders of a Nesquehoning citizens' committee today planned to seek the aid of Attorney-General Claude T. Reno in an effort to see that "justice is done" in the slaying of 14-year-old Joan Stevens, "doll girl," by a State Motor Police corporal.

Planning to ask Reno's active intervention, Isadore Riley, chairman of the committee, said a mass meeting would be held Friday night.

Riley pointed out that James McCready, counsel retained by the committee in investigating the fatal shooting of Joan last June 5, will not be able to be present when a grand jury hears evidence in the tragedy next October.

"We will want somebody inside that jury room at that time to make sure that justice is protected when the evidence is presented to the jurors," Riley said. "We want no further bungling in this case."

Corporal Benjamin Franklin, 33, has admitted shooting the Stevens girl when she allegedly threatened him and another trooper with what proved to be a toy gun.

Franklin said he was questioning the victim about her asserted knowledge of a planned bank hold up.

The fact that Joan was a schoolgirl and carried only the toy pistol, instead of a gun moll brandishing a deadly weapon, was concealed from County Judge William G. Thomas when he released her slayer in bail of $5000 it was revealed by the committee.

"I believed it was a real gun," the judge declared.

Joan was slain by a hail of eight bullets as she rode in the back seat of a car containing, besides herself, Corporal Franklin and Patrolman Ed Swatji.

An immediate lid of secrecy was clamped on the shooting, the girl's parents not being told it was their daughter until next day.

DAD TO GUESS AGAIN WITH 'SON' BORN GIRL

NEWARK, N. J., June 21 (AP)—Sidney A. Fortel's son turned out to be a girl but the 35-year-old self-taught sex-predeterminator said today it just goes to show that sometimes figures do lie.

"I must have made a miscalculation," he said after he had gotten over the surprise of becoming the father of six-pound, 12-ounce girl yesterday afternoon.

"But as wrong as I am, I'm right. And we're going to have another baby and there'll be no mistake."

The Fortel offspring arrived at Beth Israel Hospital at 4:20 p. m. (EST) yesterday, two days after the deadline Fortel set for the arrival of a "son."

Buckling down to the task of determining the exact reason for the flopping of his predetermination, Fortel announced he was definitely not giving up and was going to study harder than ever to prove he had not wasted 20 years studying sex-predetermination for nothing.

Fortel was bitten by the sex predetermination bug when a young man because he was the only boy in a family of eight children.

"I wanted to know why," he said, "so I studied the subject in all the medical books for 20 years."

He thought he had it all figured out and last March mailed announcements to friends that his wife would give birth to a boy on June 17 or 18.

ALL OUT OF BOYS

Marvin was philosophical about the sudden change in sex.

"I guess they were all out of boys," said he.

Due to another miscalculation Fortel was not present at the hospital when the baby was born, explaining:

"I didn't expect it until after 9 o'clock. When I came back to the hospital and they told me what happened I had a funny feeling. I was not exactly happy.

"My wife looked at me when I walked into the room but when I laughed, she laughed, too," adding after a thought, "we're both proud of the girl."

Fortel said the child would be named Hazel Ann, his mother-in-law's name.

ly arrested the two shirt-sleeved officers. They took them out, placed them in the back seat of an automobile and took them to the places where they had left their uniforms.

"The next day I visited the police commissioner and he said, 'That was a wonderful thing you did for me yesterday and I'm very grateful to you for it.'

PROTECTING CHILDREN

He repeated the expression of his gratitude and spoke of the seriousness of the offence.

"I told the commissioner that many complaints had come to me about the presence of police officers in that barroom last summer and that I did not intend to have the children of the neighborhood scandalized this summer.

"The police officers in question did not leave their coats and hats on a bench outside the barroom, but somewhere in the park. They were not at the restaurant, but in the barroom, and if they wanted food they should have gone to some other restaurant that has a more respectable reputation.

MANY COMPLAINTS

"There are too many instances to support our contention that the police do not give those working for the moral betterment of the neighborhood the cooperation and support that they should.

"Only this morning the court reported to me that one of the police of the district was up on a charge of committing one of the worst crimes in the calendar.

"Perhaps our action may be beneficial in elevating the morale of the police department in our district.

"As priests, we are responsible for the morale and spiritual welfare of our people, but we cannot do the work alone."

It was an amazed audience that listened while Fr. Waters drew his picture of alleged police tippling and high jinks before the Boston Licensing Board.

The board now has under consideration the demand of Fr. Waters that the tavern license of Joseph A. Reis, one of his own parishioners in East Second street, be revoked.

Reis, said the priest, "is not fit to have a license and is not fit to conduct a liquor business."

Sergeant James Culleton of South Boston police station took the stand and characterized the priest's assertions as "very unfair," declaring the police had co-operated with all clergy of the district.

Hurley Asks to Aid Callahan on Ouster

Former Democratic Governor Charles F. Hurley today asked for an opportunity to be heard at ouster proceedings against Public Works Commissioner William F. Callahan and before a special state commission investigating pardons and paroles.

He said he would like to appear before Republican Governor Leverett Saltonstall, who seeks the Callahan ouster, and before the pardons commission upon his return from a four weeks' trip to the Hurley ancestral estate in Ireland.

At least two pardons granted by Hurley in the dying days of his administration are under investigation by the pardons commission and were specifically mentioned in the legislative order creating that investigating body.

One of the pardons was granted Raymond L. S. Patriarca, after serving but 84 days of three three-to-five-year sentences for robbery and breaking and entering.

SENDS GOVERNOR LETTER

The other was that of John Tartar of the South End, who murdered Mary Mahan, his South Boston sweetheart.

Tartar has been missing since Governor Saltonstall revoked his pardon on the ground that he had violated a parole condition.

Hurley reappointed Callahan as one of the last major acts of his administration.

Hurley's requests were contained in letters to Governor Saltonstall and Senator Jarvis Hunt, chairman of the pardons commission.

PLANS IRELAND TRIP

His letter to Governor Saltonstall declared:

"I am hereby advising you of the fact that I am to be away for four weeks with my family on a trip to Ireland which I planned and announced to the press last January. In the event of public hearings on the proposed removal of William F. Callahan as commissioner of public works, I would like to be heard.

"Therefore, upon my return, I respectfully request that you extend me the privilege of appearing before Your Excellency at one of the public hearings."

In his letter to Senator Hunt, Hurley wrote:

"It has been called to my attention that your commission might possibly desire to confer with me in connection with your present inquiry.

14 CHARGES FILED

"If the members of your commission desire, I shall welcome the opportunity on my return to appear before your honorable body."

Saltonstall filed 14 charges against Callahan and announced hearings would open Monday. They were based upon a lengthy report of a special three-man all-Republican commission which conducted "an efficiency survey" into the public works department and reported "waste of millions of dollars."

LIGHTS GREEN AS SUB DIVED

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 21—Green lights, flashing on the hydraulic manifold control board of the submarine Squalus, indicated that her hull was closed for a dive, Lieutenant William T. Doyle, Jr., of Baltimore, executive officer of the sub, today told the naval board of inquiry investigating the loss of the Squalus and 26 members of her crew.

W. T. Doyle

Asked by Commander Charles W. Styer, judge advocate of the board of inquiry, "Did you see the board when the dive was made?" Lieutenant Doyle answered: "Yes."

Lieutenant Doyle answered: "Yes."

Q—Did it remain green?

A—Yes. All the lights were green.

Q—Then what did you do?

A—I ordered No. 3 and 4 vents opened on seeing the green board. I held up two fingers for the second diving blast to be sounded and ordered No. 3 and 4 ballast tanks to be flooded.

Like his commanding officer, Lieutenant Oliver F. Naquin, Lieutenant Doyle was asked:

"If an interlocking device had been between the vent and the high induction valve might it have prevented the accident—assuming it was caused by the improper closure of the valve?"

"If the Squalus were so rigged it would not allow the outer valve to show closed until the inner valve had been closed," Doyle replied. "It would give further indication that all outboard valves were closed."

The device was suggested to the navy 18 years ago.

QUIZZED ON VALVE

Lieutenant Doyle was asked if there was sufficient time with the assigned men in the engine room to close the outside valve after the second diving alarm was sounded and before the high induction valve goes into the water.

"I believe there was," Lieutenant Doyle replied.

Grads of 1914 Lead Colorful Class Day Fete at Harvard

Time fled back a full quarter century today for Governor Leverett Saltonstall, President James Bryant Conant and scores of others prominent in all walks of life as the class of '14 was honored by being placed in charge of Harvard's annual Class Day.

It is traditional that on a day hallowed by traditions the class in charge shall be the "25 year class"—one which is celebrating the silver anniversary of its own graduation. So the festivities went on for the oldsters and the youngsters those who have had much of living, those for whom life is at its real beginning.

And as members of the various classes assembled for the annual parade, there was much of the university's history during the last 50 years of its existence in the line of march. Members of the classes which graduated 20, 15, 10, six and three years ago were, by custom, dressed in unique costumes.

PARADE TO STADIUM

The parade, high spot of the day, formed at 1:30 proceeding up Holyoke street to Mt. Auburn, to Boylston and thence to the Stadium. After exercises there, including an address by President Conant, the annual confetti battle was scheduled.

It was estimated that approximately 5000 alumni and friends were in Cambridge for the day.

Proceedings began at 11:15, when the senior class assembled at Lowell House Tower and marched to the Kirkland House triangle for the literary exercises.

The parade was headed by Class Marshals Richard H. Sullivan, Marietta, O.; Robert L. Green, Jr., Overbrook, Pa., and Francis A. Harding, Jr., of Chestnut Hill. Sullivan was in charge of the proceedings, which were begun by Dean William L. Sperry, of the divinity school.

Richard W. B. Lewis, of Philadelphia, delivered the class oration.

"We all have taken part in a four act play," he said, in part.

"Some of us arrived late and others, doubtless owing to previous appointments, had to leave before it was over. But none of us have remained untouched.

SING CLASS ODE

"I do not mean to congratulate us on becoming Harvard men as that phrase is lightly used. I mean simply that in a deeper, cultural sense we have become men.

"The fruit of a Harvard education is the production of an integrated man. He will understand the relation of thought and action. And, understanding, he will act, not out of hate and hysteria, but out of reasoned thought."

Robert W. Anderson, of New Rochelle, N. Y., read the class poem, and the class ode, by Ellsworth S. Grant, of West Hartford, Ct., was sung to the tune of "Fair Harvard."

Luncheon was served at the various houses between 12 and 1:15, when the parade assembled for the march to the stadium.

LED BY GOVERNOR

Governor Saltonstall, as chief marshal, was in the van with the class of '14, followed by this year's seniors, and then representatives of some fifty classes, extending back seventy years, were in line according to seniority.

H. Lane Blackwell, of Cambridge, delivered the Ivy Oration before President Conant spoke.

The Yale-Harvard baseball game was scheduled for 3 o'clock, and, after dinner, there was to be a concert by the Harvard orchestra and glee club. Dancing at the various houses was to continue until 1 a. m.

Radcliffe

A plea for more rigorous thinking and the will to deal with independence on public questions was voiced by Grenville Clark, New York attorney and member of the Harvard Corporation, at Radcliffe College commencement exercises today.

A total of 213 degrees were awarded. Ten graduates received doctors of philosophy, 42 masters of arts and 161 were awarded the bachelor of arts degree.

"In these rapidly changing times," Dr. Clark declared, "the speed and the volume of communications has put an unprecedented premium on the ability to select and discriminate, to think coolly and with clarity.

"Among the dangers attendant on this flood of facts and figures are the frequent misstatements of facts and figures in the publications of the day and on the radio.

"Still more important is the development of a healthy suspicion as to the interpretation of correctly stated facts. One example will point my meaning. In a recent poll on the question of marketing quotas, the number of cotton growers who voted was five times the combined number of those growing tobacco and rice. Of two great newspapers reporting the poll, one said: 'Control is voted "or cotton crop, beaten on others,' while the other said: 'Farmers reject tobacco quota and rice plan,' only mentioning below in smaller type the opposite result in the cotton poll.

"The disciplined mind knows in advance the subtle power of the misleading headline or slogan, and guards against it. Otherwise, the half-truth and the misleading bias renders clear and impartial thought almost impossible."

Leave to add new charges to the information already filed in ouster action against John Patrick Connolly, clerk of Superior Civil Court, will be asked of Supreme Court next Monday, it was indicated today.

One of the investigators for the Boston Bar Association disclosed that a meeting will be held to decide on the matter of asking leave to amend the information, filed last week by the organization.

Also it was learned that several employes still in Connolly's office were secretly interviewed last night at a downtown address and that they made certain signed statements in their own handwriting.

It is understood that the bar association is investigating a report that a $1900 painting presented Connolly was paid for through assessments on his office staff.

Attorney Arthur J. Santry of the law firm of Putnam, Dutch, Santry and Bell entered his appearance today as one of the counsel for the bar association.

Reuben L. Lurie already has filed as bar association counsel, and these attorneys will work together.

Attorney Bernard J. Killion has admitted being asked to represent Connolly before the supreme court, but thus far has not given out any acceptance.

What's That? A Blowout? Yeah, But Ouch! Ouch!

Boston's most startled motorist today was Otto Z. Zauge of Clare avenue, Hyde Park, because while Zauge was driving in Stuart street, near Arlington street, he thought someone had booted him a lusty boot in the trousers.

In fact, the whole car had been booted, but when Zauge, what with the loud explosive noise and the shock, stopped the machine, it was found that a manhole cover had been blown off while Zauge was directly over it.

The cover struck the underside of the machine, but inflicted little damage.

Police, firemen and workers of the gas and electric companies responded to an alarm, to find no damage. District Chief William Maloney said the manhole explosion was caused by sewer gas.

MATTSON SLAYER HUNTED BY G-MEN

HAYWARD, Wis., June 21—Federal authorities took a hand in the hunt for a quick-triggered killer of two deputy sheriffs following his announced identification by a North Woods sheriff as the Mattson kidnap-slayer.

Meanwhile, the killer — August Boelo, alias Ray Olson—continued to elude posses of veteran woodsmen attempting to trail him through the brush and timber and swamplands of the Chippewa flowage.

Federal authorities were reticent concerning Sheriff George Seehuetter's positive identification of Olson as the cold-blooded murderer of little Charley Mattson, kidnaped from his Tacoma, Wash., home December 27, 1936, and found dead in a ditch near Everett, Wash., the following January 11.

HOOVER SCANS REPORT

However, J. Edgar Hoover, head of the federal bureau of investigation, ordered Special Agent Fred Rutzan in charge of the Milwaukee office to prepare a full report on Olson for his scrutiny.

Seehuetter, sheriff of Sawyer County and director of the hunt for Olson, declared:

"It has been definitely established that Olson is the Mattson kidnap-slayer."

Posemen, who for five days have pursued Olson, divided their forces today and enacted a campaign designed to prevent the 39-year-old exconvict from replenishing his food supply.

ALL ROADS GUARDED

While a group of volunteers and deputies under Sheriff Ellsworth Wilson guarded all roads in Northern Rusk County and searched the countryside near Bruce, a second army of possemen under Sheriff George Seehuetter of Sawyer County continued systematically to comb the Moose Lake area near here where the fugitive broke into a store Monday and stole food.

Deputies were posted at all stores, resorts and filling stations near Moose Lake in the hope of capturing Olson, in the event he again attempted a burglary to obtain provisions.

Big Flying Boat Ends Indian Ocean Hop

MOMBASSA, Kenya Colony, June 21 (AP)—The flying boat Guba alighted here today, completing in four hops an Indian Ocean 4674-mile survey flight to test possibilities of an alternate England-to-Australia air route. The Guba took off earlier today from Mahe, Seyche'les Islands, less than 1000 miles away.

Consul Holds Up Baron's Visa

Heaven can wait insofar as the local French consul's visa of a passport for Baron Frary von Blumberg's international tour on behalf of a new religion is concerned.

Denying that the visa has been definitely refused, M. Francois Briere, the consul, nevertheless stated today that it was temporarily held up, pending examination.

"Everyone," he said, "does not receive their visa immediately. They must be looked into. And so must this one."

The baron, born William T. Frary, of Lynn, who was adopted by the Baroness Adelhard Maria von Blumberg here when he was 26 and she was 77, is now, he said, international secretary of the World Fellowship of Faith, for which he intends making a world tour.

An associate, he added, received a French visa without question.

France to Build Ocean Planes

PARIS, June 21—In spite of demands being made on French airplane factories for rearmament machines France's North Atlantic Air Transport Company is having two 66-ton flying boats built for passenger service between New York and Paris.

Their tonnage compares with 41, the gross weight of America's Boeing Clipper plane—which on June 28 will inaugurate regular passenger service from New York to Marseille—to place the French in the forefront of those nations constructing larger ocean aircraft.

In announcing today that express and mail service with smaller planes may be started this year, Louis Couhe, administrative head of Air France Transatlantique, said six American-made engines would be used on each of the 66-ton ships.

Boy Fires Gun in Auto Pocket, Kills Chum

HAVERFORD, Pa., June 21 (AP)—A shot fired accidentally from a pistol carried in an automobile door pocket killed 7-year-old Samuel Mumma, Jr., his playmate, Robert Little, was quoted by Haverford township police as saying he pulled the trigger while the two boys were playing last night.

Robert was released in the custody of his parents. His father, was held in $500 bail on a charge of unlawfully carrying firearms.

HOMER LORING DIES AT 63

Homer Loring, 63, noted Boston financier, philanthropist and "doctor" of ailing industries, died of a heart attack in New York last night, it was learned here today.

He is survived by Mrs. Loring and a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Power, both of Ashland.

Loring, a native of Newton, distinguished himself in many business and financial fields.

At the time of his death, he was president and director of United Merchants and Manufacturers, Inc., a textile organization.

CORPORATION GENIUS

He was formerly chairman of directors of the Boston and Maine railroad, chairman of the Massachusetts state commission on administration and finance and director of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Loring won a wide reputation as a man of remarkable ability in putting "ailing" corporations on a sound financial basis.

He tried his hand successfully at reorganization of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway system, then did an equally efficient and far-reaching job of "doctoring" on the Boston and Maine railroad.

He declined a gift "bonus" of $100,000 when he relinquished his Boston and Maine post.

ARDENT SPORTSMAN

Later he devoted much of his energy and experience to rehabilitation of the New England textile industry.

His residence was in Boston, with a summer home in Hollisten. An ardent amateur sportsman, he was particularly fond of yachting.

His death last night was at the Union Club, in New York. Arrangements for the funeral were being made today.

8 SAVED IN PLUNGE AT WHARF

Eight employes of the Bay State Crab Company today owed their lives to the prompt aid of comrades when a catwalk at the company shed on Commercial wharf collapsed and plunged them into the harbor.

Several of the workmen dropped 20 feet onto a float, while others tumbled into harbor waters. They had gone onto the catwalk in a group to change the position of lobster cars which were bumping against fishing boats.

Most seriously hurt in the plunge was Angelo Sarto, 22, of Chelsea street, East Boston, who suffered back and leg injuries.

The others, who received bruises, were three brothers, Dominick, Joseph and James Faro, all of Shirley street, Winthrop; their father, Angelo Faro; Frank Turnullo of Wall street, West End, and James Foley of Chambers street, West End.

Followers of Martin Lomasney knew Joseph as "Brother Joe."

He was born in Boston in 1863, was elected to the Boston Common Council at the age of 25, served in the House of Representatives, also as assistant water commissioner, superintendent of bridges and state senator.

SEE NAZI DANZIG GRAB BY JULY 1

LONDON, June 21—Seizure of Danzig on or before July 1—which may be "Der tag" in Hitler's next gesture of aggression—was seen here today as the reason for troop movements of as many as 1,500,000 men in Germany, effecting what amounts to encirclement of Poland.

Principal activity is reported from Slovakia, where troops and work battalions have been sent into the new Siegfried line, along the Polish frontier, at intervals of two weeks.

The men, rumors persist, have been transferred quickly so as many as possible can learn all details of the Polish frontier fortifications.

Troops from the Berlin and Hanover garrisons have been moved, while others from Potsdam are reported concentrated opposite Posen along the Polish corridor.

Marshal Goering

Marshal Hermann Goering's anti-aircraft units are reported to have been seen as far away as East Prussia, to which they are said to have been transported by small boats, to escape notice.

Some of the men are said to have complained bitterly of seasickness caused by the short but rough crossing of the Baltic.

In Pomerania troops are also on the move, but regimental numbers have been carefully shielded.

All of this activity is most amazing in that it comes long before the scheduled date for summer maneuvers, and before the German harvest, due late in July. Previously it was believed here and in other world capitals that Hitler would make no new move until after the crops were in.

To ease internal pressure in what was Czechoslovakia, Hitler has issued decrees of general amnesty for all prisoners except those accused of murder, robbery or treason. Those imprisoned for political reasons are being released by the wholesale.

Further evidence of contemplated aggression is found in the scracity of gasoline. It can be purchased at the rate of only one gallon at a time, and many stations have closed entirely.

Government officials admit that a "reserve" is being accumulated.

PLYMOUTH, England, June 21 (AP)—Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, wife of the United States ambassador to London, returned from a visit to America today in time for the 17th birthday party of her daughter Eunice tomorrow.

Mrs. Kennedy said she expected all her nine children would be present at the party.

FOUR KILLED BY AIR ACROBATICS

An airplane crash which claimed four lives at Montague June 11 was attributed today to structural failure of wing fitting which "probably" was damaged in an accident in the Middle West in May, 1936.

Major Clarence E. Hodge, state supervisor of aviation, reported to Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin a contributing cause was "violent acrobatic air maneuvers immediately prior to the accident."

The acrobatic flying, Hodge said, "was either the result of a passenger interfering with the controls or deliberate stunting on the part of the pilot," Lester Hogden, 31, of Greenfield, one of those who died in a 1,000-foot plunge after the plane lost a wing.

The other victims were Miss Katherine Walsh, 27; Donald Drew, 22, and Howard Glazier, all of Greenfield. Because all died, no action can be taken, Hodge said.

been informed that Britain did not "acquiesce" in the blockade.

Chamberlain's statement was in response to a question by Anthony Eden, his former foreign secretary.

Answering other questions, Chamberlain said there had been no new incidents at Tientsin, that the Japanese government had promised to investigate incidents already reported and that there was no serious food shortage so far.

2 More British Ships Ready to Run Blockade

TIENTSIN, June 21 (INS)—Two British coastal vessels confident that guns of His Majesty's warships will protect them, sailed from Shanghai today to try to run the Japanese blockade at Tientsin with cargoes of wheat, flour, vegetables and fruit.

Eagerly awaiting the supplies, Britons in their blockaded area in Tientsin settled down for a long siege, their minds eased by the departure of 100 women and children for Peitaiho and Chingwangtao.

To protect any British merchantmen trying to reach Tientsin, the escort vessel Sandwich anchored off the Bund, reinforcing the cruiser Lowestoft. British ships trying to reach Tientsin earlier in the blockade were stopped by Japanese and searched.

U. S. Protest on Amoy Blockade Rejected

TOKYO, June 21 (AP)—The Japanese consul-general at Amoy, Goro Uchida, has rejected a protest by the United States, British and French consuls against a food shortage of Kulangsu Island, the Amoy International settlement, Domei, Japanese news agency, reported today.

It was "unavoidable that the island is suffering a lack of materials" because of a naval blockade intended to prevent entrance into the settlement of anti-Japanese elements, Uchida wrote the consuls, Domei's Amoy dispatch said.

Deport All Alien Foes, Demand Kiwanians

Deportation of all aliens engaged in subversive activities or members of subversive organizations was urged today in a desolution adopted by the 5000 Kiwanians attending the closing business sessio nof their 23d annual international convention.

The resolution, presented in Mechanics Building, also urged that organizations advocating substitution of other forms of government than democracy in the United States and Canada be compelled to file sworn statements.

These would give the names of officers, the organizations' objective and the amount of contributions received, together with names of contributors.

Another resolution adopted urged enactment of laws to prohibit union organization of government relief recipients.

URGES U. S. ECONOMY

Also adopted by acclamation were an appeal to United States citizens to help bring immediate economy in government, a return to government by law as against bureaucracy, and Kiwanis support in a program to prevent dissemination of salacious literature throughout this country and Canada.

In an address preceding adoption of the resolutions, W. J. Cameron, spokesman for the Ford Motor Company, told the Kiwanians that business is a greater factor than politics in building good society.

Cameron assailed "crack-brained leaders who preach to gullible people that business is naturally evil and necessarily predatory."

"Business," he said, "is fundamentally and necessarily moral as a condition of its own survival.

"Industry first found itself in the hovels of the people. It removed the work to that modern institution we call the factory and gave the dwellings of the people the dignity of homes.

POINTS TO RECORD

"Industry found men and women and little children working 15 hours a day for pittances. It reduced the work day to eight hours, the work week to five days, and increased wages to unprecedented levels.

"Now, what I would have business men know, as against the gross misunderstanding, is that every one of these reforms came voluntarily out of industry intent on doing its job the best way.

"The charge that these improvements were made at the insistence of a morally outraged society is not tenable.

"All of this present-day talk about democracy was made possible by the foundation industry provided.

"All of this great system of public education which prepares a people for democracy was made possible and is maintained by the under-girding support of industry. I say this for the encouragement of those engaged in business.

"We have nothing to be ashamed of in our record. If we have this knowledge of our course and its social effects, we need not hang our heads under the bludgeoning of the misinformed."

BIG PAGEANT TONIGHT

Tonight the curtain will ring down on social activities of the convention, with the staging of a huge pageant at Mechanics Building, portraying all the functions of Kiwanis.

The pageant, "Soul of Kiwanis," has a cast of 500 who will enact in six separate episodes widespread activities and historic occasions of the International.

West Roxbury Little Theater group members will open the pageant with a visual prologue, while a group of Newton high school coeds engage in pantomime interpretive dancing.

Those having speaking roles in the prologue include Benjamin H. Fossett, Katherine L. Foster, Phyllis D'Entremont, Eben S. Whiting, Lois Chase, William T. Kazi, Francis J. O'Brien, Lincoln J. Short, Barbara Jennings and Hazel Sands Welch, all of Boston.

DEPICT SERVICE

First of the episodes will be "Service," presented by the Framingham Club.

Characters in the second episode, depicting the Kiwanis' entrance into Canada, include members of the Revere club, Andrew Cassass, Julius Brayman and John E. Greenman.

"Making a Kiwanis," the third of the one-act episodes, will be staged by a Wellesley group, with a cast of Reginald Beuttel, Alfred Frazier and Bobby Frazier.

Kiwanis' excellent work in vocational guidance will be shown in the fourth episode, entitled "The Forgotten Man." This playlet will be enacted by the Cambridge club.

A group of boys from the Worcester "Y" will aid the Worcester Kiwanis club enact the fifth episode, "Street of Dreams."

Final episode, "Trust," portraying Kiwanis work among underprivileged children will be enacted by Herman Norton, Jr., Archibald C. Bellinger, E. J. Pease, Herman Norton, William L. White and James P. Gallagher. This is a presentation of the Newton club.

BALLET SWING—A bit of classic ballet done in the modern swing tempo is displayed by Betty Coulter and Ruth Dillingham, both of Newton Highlands. They'll perform in Kiwanian pageant tonight at Mechanics Building.

Britain May Adopt U. S. Diving Bell

LONDON, June 21 (AP)—The British admiralty, in the light of the Thetis submarine disaster that killed 99 men June 1, is interested in the diving bell that saved 33 when the United States submarine Squalus sank off Portsmouth, N. H., just a week before.

Geoffrey Shakespeare, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, in Commons today said the admiralty had been in touch with the United States Navy regarding possibility of adoption of the diving bell.

29,485,680 U. S. Autos on Roads in 1938

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)

More than enough automobiles were operated in the United States last year to carry the entire population.

The Bureau of Public Roads today tallied 29,485,680 automobiles in operation during 1938 with 1,085,122 trailers and 138,581 motorcycles thrown in for good measure. The population of the country is about 130,000,000.

Automobiles used 21,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline, and operators paid an average of four cents a gallon tax on it, netting the states $771,763,000 in revenue.

They paid $555,870,000 in registration and inspection fees, and reported $2,771,000 in fines and penalties.

Don't Be FAT

Make This Test Prove You Can Take Off Those Stubborn Pounds

You say you can't reduce. You say you can't take off fat. You tell YOU CAN do it. Most doctors say the best way to reduce, weigh and measure yourself and mark it down.

Then let us supply you with a package of Kruschen. Take one Kruschen Tablet after each meal. Don't diet. Don't starve. Don't take exercise. At the end of the first week weigh yourself. Next week weigh yourself again.

Let the scales tell the story. See how much you have lost. Note the actual number of pounds. You can feel it in your clothes. You can read it on your tape measure.

YES, you actually do TAKE OFF FAT without punishment, or injury to your health. Kruschen takes off fat by dissolving it into liquid so it passes from the system through daily elimination. It's the most marvelous way of reducing ever discovered. Thousands testify to it.

Prove it to yourself. Get a package of Kruschen today. If it doesn't more than amaze you with the results in weight reduction, this offer will promptly and cheerfully refund your money.

ROOSEVELT SONS BET ON WAR

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK June 21 Heard About Town: 11 P. M. — "Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., has a $50 bet with his brother, Jimmy," a Washington official informs at the Paradise. "Jimmy bet that there'd be a war in Europe before February" . . . "I wish Max Schmeling would return to America," Hank Greenberg sighs at the Lexington. "When Max was here last I played skull-ball with him every night and won $500 from him" . . . "I'd like to see Alec Woollcott," Miriam Hopkins states at the Persian Room. "He said I had given him 'one moist, unnegotiable kiss'" . . . "Please don't mind me," Anita Colby Lewis tells the excited headwaiters at the Cotton Club. "I'm here just to get out of the rain"

"You were half-right," Paul Robeson corrects at Cafe Society. "I did go to New York University Law School—but was graduated from Columbia

He wore it all the next day, except [illegible] Norman Hartnell's good Queen Mary clothes . . . [illegible] Harrie . . . [illegible] with his dresses across the ocean [illegible] at the Astor Palace. That's why the royal procession was seven minutes late . . . Elaine Barrie isn't finished with the theatre . . . [illegible] She probably will do some work with Leonard Sillman's revuers in the fall

4 A. M. John Gunther brought an advance copy of his new book to Vincent Sheean, who then showed Gunther an advance copy of his own book," an editor relates at the Kit Kat. "Both famous roving correspondents sat there reading each other's books—but Sheean couldn't rove because he is ill, and Gunther, who writes Inside stories about Continents, was wearing shoes which weren't mates." . . . Hoot Gibson stations himself at Forty-Seventh and Seventh to watch the new horse-racing electric sign. "Poor horses," Hoot laments, "to be corralled on Broadway" . . . "I was at the Cotton Club last week," Fritzi Scheff states at Reuben's. "The last time I was there, 22 years ago, it was called the Palais Royal. I worked there as a star"

5 A. M. "Henry Foner of the American Youth Congress went to the Hall of Pharmacy at the Fair to interview the general manager, Mr. Maple," a producer relates at Lindy's. "Maple couldn't be interviewed, because he had a cut eye and had to find a first-aid station—because there wasn't any at the Hall of Pharmacy" . . .

His father was good to our people when we didn't have so many friends" Well, there it is Martin, and good fortune to you, too . . . Mrs. Sallestad knows this thoroughbred racing . . . made a study of it on the breeding farms of Kentucky, Virginia and Maryland, where it begins . . . Maybe, George, you have met Tom Heard the fine Texan who owns a string of thoroughbreds for the love of it, never having bet a dollar on one of his horses in a race . . . speaking of Texas the personal feud between Garner and Roosevelt is closer than the Washington correspondents are writing about and wider than Garner and Roosevelt would ever admit

Alpha and Omega Of Mickey Cochrane

PERHAPS IT IS BECAUSE I HAPPEN to have watched the actual beginning, most of the interludes and the actual end of Mickey Cochrane's athletic saga that I am reading his memories in this family journal with such unending interest;

AUSTEN LAKE

The start was this:

In 1923 Boston University did not have the modern athletic field and budget system that it possesses now. Its practice field was a hard-scrabble, vacant lot behind the Commonwealth Ave. billboard's where lads in patched jerseys, stockingless legs and run-down-at-the-heel shoes avoided the weedy-humps and pebbly-patches as best they could. It was a hand-me-down, go-as-you-please kind of system where the Charles Hayden Memorial building is being built now. And its athletic budget was a kind of "fiddle and tin cup" affair—begged or borrowed

I don't know how long Cochrane—a loose-jointed, plush-cheeked, rural-bred lad who carried himself with a queer mixture of apology and calf-like mischief, might have stood on the outer fringes of B. U. football. Except that sometimes his coach, Dr. Charles Whelan, failed to muster enough players for practice.

The opening game of that fall was with West Point—for B. U. in those days offered itself, at a price, as an experimental morsel to large college dragons—was less than a week away when Whelan ordered Cochrane to fill in as halfback on the scrubs.

Which Players Are Dogging It? Cubs' Fans Ask

CHICAGO [illegible] (INS)—Fizzy Iwan had a correction to make today.

[illegible]

"You business men may think you have worries, but the Cubs are having real worries these days.

"I say the reason we're not on top (the Cubs [illegible] National League champions] are in fourth place today is that we aren't pulling together.

"We are doing the best we can—that is, two thirds of us are. We won't get anywhere until the other one third comes along with us and starts playing ball.

[illegible]

"Businessmen cannot succeed unless they are all pulling together. If only two thirds of them are pulling they cannot succeed any more than the Cubs can win if only two thirds of them are in there hitting.

WHAT'S YOUR NUMBER?

NUMBER 1 [illegible] favorite cigar always [illegible] the same fine, satisfying [illegible]

He doesn't need any [illegible] reasons from Phillies—because he knows that Phillies offers the greatest smoking reason possible. Smokers, themselves, say it is "America's most enjoyable cigar" . . . and prove they mean what they say by walking into stores, day after day, and laying down more money for Phillies than for any other cigar at any price.

NUMBER 2 is always being influenced by claims featured by some cigars to help them sell better—not necessarily smoke better. One time it's a "new Havana Blend"; another time, a "different shape"; or a "price cut"; or a "new package".

Naturally he's disappointed more often than not. The very fact of so many changes shows those cigars don't please real smokers.

NUMBER 3 hasn't yet found a cigar that suits him. One brand will taste too strong—the next one too flat. So he keeps on switching from brand to brand. He doesn't get the pleasure he should out of that kind of smoking.

GUARANTEED the same cigar today, for 5c, that was good enough to become the biggest-selling brand at 10c

OUR AMERICAN milers can prove their sportsmanship and confidence in their own ability to win by accepting one of the many offers they have received to race Sydney Wooderson in a return contest in England.

Eastern club [illegible] to put on another Mile Run Carnival.

Glenn Cunningham, Chuck Fenske, Joe Ray Rideout would offer more than speed and track generalship against the speedy Wooderson in the proposed race in England.

Wooderson did not run a true race at Princeton. The slow moving pictures of the race prove that the Englishman was accidentally bumped by Rideout as the leaders hit the turn of the final lap. At the time it looked as if it would be a battle to the finish between Wooderson, Fenske and Rideout who were almost abreast and Cunningham who was close to the leaders.

Any person who has had experience in running races knows that bumping throws a contestant off stride. Coming as it did at Princeton a few hundred yards from the finish of the race, Wooderson naturally didn't have a chance to get going properly again.

It is very possible that Fenske and Cunningham would defeat Wooderson under any conditions. Before the Princeton race there were many judges of track sports who believed that Fenske was sure to win on account of his experimental ability as a miler. Chuck has been improving during the past year.

Hefner is 31 years of age and a graduate of Texas University at Austin, Texas . . . While in college, Hefner participated in wrestling, football and basketball . . . Auker lived up to his reputation as a hot weather pitcher as he turned back the Browns by a score of 8 to 1 . . . When with Detroit, Auker seldom showed to advantage in the Spring, and he ran true to form with the Sox . . . Now that the weather has become warm Joe Cronin and Tom Yawkey may look to see Auker display signs of improvement . . . It was just frightful the way the Yankees treated the White Sox yesterday . . . There is not any stopping Joe McCarthy's world's champions.

What Undressed Garbage Man Doesn't Wear

VALDESE, N. C., June 22 (AP)—Policeman J. F. Stilwell would be the last man to rule hard too hard on the proprieties of dress these hot days but he thinks a Garbage collector here carried the thing too far.

Stilwell said he came upon him, making his rounds, attired only in a straw hat. The collector was charged with indecent exposure and driving while under the influence of liquor.

Spoiled Child

By MRS BEECKMAN

If there is a spoiled child in the house the parents whose love for their child is unimpaired as well as blind will probably think the child a perfectly adorable little soul and never as clever as the Wolf maybe.

An intelligent spoiled child is a pest and a nuisance to everyone but its doting parents and to them it is priceless. It is particularly irritating and annoying to a childless couple who have decided to wait a while before they have children of their own.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

"The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Blood Test Bill Passed

After stormy debate in which opponents described the measure as a step toward birth control, Massachusetts House of Representatives passed a measure which would provide blood tests for expectant mothers.

Rep. Lester B. Cutler of Needham, sponsor of the measure and one of the two women members of the House, argued that the blood tests would reveal any cases of disease and proper treatment would surely save the lives and health of the children.

Fighting a bill proposing taxes on receipts from the game of Bingo, Rep. William P. Baker of Newton declared the measure would be a "tax on charity" and succeeded in getting it defeated 70 to 60, yesterday in the Massachusetts House.

Austen Lake:

HAIL, FAREWELL TO 'IRON HORSE'

THE SAD NEWS IS OUT! Lou Gehrig, enigmatic Invalid of the Yankees, has infantile paralysis and will never play baseball again! The massive frame, the hitching post legs, the fine co-ordination between mind and muscle, the great technical knack, has fallen victim to the tiniest organism known to man—a mysterious microbe which attacks both meek and mighty.

AUSTEN LAKE

During the last visit of the Yankees to Fenway Park, I sat on the bench with Lou. He was reticent. He admitted his once-vast energies had leaked away. He couldn't run. He couldn't swing. So he just sat on the sidelines. His physical light had gone out.

"Please," he said finally, with a note of exasperation, "don't ask me any more. The news will break soon enough—a month maybe! Just say 'I hope to play again'. . ."

That was all! Joe McCarthy didn't know any more. The rest is history!

"Has Lou's consecutive game record affected his health?" I asked McCarthy. Joe shrugged! Maybe Yes! Maybe No!

More than likely the answer is "Yes." For there have been times when injuries and illness made Gehrig's record an affair on such as that September period in 1930 when he broke a finger chipped an elbow bone and had several painful cysts behind his right ear.

And that June 21 day of 1926 when he was beaned at Norfolk and nearly had his skull fractured. And that situation [illegible] on no acute attack of paralysis made his body a living agony. And June 25 of 1927 when Lou Gehrig knocked him unconscious with a fast ball to the temple. And that siege of intestinal grip [illegible]

Babe Counseled Caution

HE HAS HAD HIS SHARE OF spike wounds, his concussions and cracks his major aches and minor gripes when it would have been easier to lie in bed. But Lou's enthusiasm proved too much a temptation.

The endurance goal which he established before beaching himself, last May 2 (215 games in one which ball players will aim at through the years with scant hope of equaling).

There have been many well-wishing advisers to warn Lou [illegible] of his record—notably Babe Ruth, who called Lou "foolish" for failing to rest a few days now and then during the season. But the only reply Lou had for these advisers was to say that when the record got too burdensome he would lay it down with no regrets. Which he did.

BASEBALL: THE FANS' GAME: BY MICKEY COCHRANE

GROVE, WALBERG OPPOSITE TYPES

Pitching is the first-line defense. On the catcher falls the burden of keeping the pitcher on an even keel; of keeping his mind off danger and on the hitter, and never allowing the hurler to beat himself.

HARD LOSER

'They talk about hitting weaknesses,' said Hubbell, 'why, that guy won't even take a base on balls when you give it to him. That pitch he hit into the seats was away out here.' And Earl reached his hand out as far as it would go at the level of his eyes.

'Those big hitters are going to get so many hits anyway,' Connie Mack used to say, 'so do not worry about them. Get the light hitters out and pitch your best to the sluggers. The results will usually be all right.'

Lou Was Overshadowed

THIS MUST HAVE ROUSED RESENTM[illegible]

In the spring of 1928 a tall gangling and shy-faced kid arrived in St Petersburg, Fla., for Yankee training. He carried a cardboard suitcase and ran to yellow polo shirts and pinch-back coats. He also had the gift of silence. And that was Joe DiMaggio, son of an Italian-born West Coast fisherman. And presently he was hitting the ball into the outfield words more forcible than Lou and the Scribes' correspondents were devising whole columns about him to the neglect of Gehrig.

He Was Always Friendly

"I'll keep this job open for you until you get good enough," Lou had told the 12-year-old

"Let's see," said Lou, "that means I've got to keep boss for ers more years. I'll tell you what. You sign with the Yankees when you're seventeen and go out to the minor for two years of seasoning. That'll shave it down to five years before I retire."

It was an inoffensive jest to make a timid boy's heart glad. But [illegible] prophecy overshot the mark. For Lou's retirement has come suddenly, and the years he kept active [illegible]

NEW YORK WILL be the next objective of the pari-mutuel forces now that New Jersey under the leadership of Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City has voted to adopt pari-mutuel betting . . . New York has been operating under a system of oral betting with the wagers being placed with bookmakers . . . A powerful bookmakers' lobby at Albany in the past has managed to prevent pari-mutuel wagering, but the vote in Jersey will change all this . . . If New York is to compete successfully with Jersey, it must go to pari-mutuel betting . . . You will then see daily handles running between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

There are more big bettors in New York than any place else . . . This is why [illegible] horsemen like to race their stables at New York tracks . . . They can always get bettors who will back them with big wagers and put them in on the profits.

THE NEW YORK Racing Commission has been investigating charges that a "speed ball"—a tablet containing stimulating drugs—has been administered to horses running at Aqueduct and Belmont . . . ROOM AND BOARD By Gene Ahern

BUT SURELY, WOMAN, YOU'RE GOING TO GIVE ME SOME PART OF THE PRIZE MONEY I WON IN THAT NATIONAL SLOGAN CONTEST! SURELY YOU DON'T MEAN TO TAKE ALL OF IT?
I NEED A NEW WASHING-MACHINE, SET OF DISHES AND LIVING-ROOM DRAPES! IF I LET YOU DRUM AROUND WITH $300, YOU'D BUY A MULE, INTEREST IN A FLEA CIRCUS AND SHOOT THE BALANCE ON SOME DAFFY SCHEME TO GET WATER COLORS OUT OF RAINBOWS!
AND THE $300 WOULD IT LAST LONG GETTING UP THOSE BREAKFASTS FOR YOU, JUDGE!

THE RABBIT'S TAUNTON DOG FORM

BEST—DONEGAL'S PRIDE.

FIRST RACE—FUTURITY

(First Half Daily Double)

QUIZ, CHIEF SWIFT ARROW, CLOSE UP

Dog	Odds	Wt.	Owner
6 Unita	3-1	66	C. A. Rhodes
2 Chief Sw. Ar.	4-1	58	Clyde Eno
5 Close Up	4-1	43½	Ernest Rhine
8 Smoky Pass	6-1	65	W. L. Bryant
1 Maymar	8-1	50	Art Wilson
4 Miss Ruth P.	10-1	59	M. J. Gavan
7 Black Panic	10-1	56	M. T. Dubiel
3 Baby P'thos	12-1	52	Pat Gavan

SECOND RACE—FUTURITY

(Second Half Daily Double)

LIQUID FIRE, BLACK LIQUID, R. L. WHITUS

2 Liquid Fire	3-1	56	Cedar P. Ken.
6 Black Liquid	4-1	47½	Ernest Rhine
7 R. L. Whitus	4-1	69	W. L. Bryant
3 C. Yonker	6-1	61	M. J. Sparks
8 Bro's Son	6-1	58	M. J. Gavan
4 Red Lila	10-1	50	Fau. Boore
1 Wee Danger	10-1	65	Otto Wohlauf
5 Big Boston	12-1	66	Ray Neal, Jr.

Am giving the top one another chance, and it should stop. BLACK LIQUID is the most likely off the late race. R. L. WHITUS could take it all.

THIRD RACE—5-16 MILE

GOLD FLASH, HY-TONE, SHAG TOWN

4 Gold Flash	3-1	65	Otto Wohlauf
3 Hy-Tone	4-1	55	Everett Harmon
1 Shag Town	4-1	60	Pat Gavan
7 Clean Carrie	6-1	58	C. A. Rhodes
6 Idol Andrew	8-1	65	Ernest Rhine
2 Crusader	10-1	58	M. J. Gavan
8 Daffy Doll	10-1	62½	F. B. Stutz
5 Bright Ballad	12-1	62	Tom Cook

This top one raced like a real good dog the first out and should repeat to score. HY-TONE is a dangerous threat. SHAG TOWN has early luck and might take it all.

FOURTH RACE—FUTURITY

GOODIE GOODIE BOY, SWEET AND LUCKY, DREAMY EYES

3 Goodie G. B.	5-1	76	J. J. Ayotte
6 Sweet & Lky	4-1	55½	Otto Wohlauf
4 Dreamy Eyes	4-1	48	F. B. Stutz
1 Smash'g P'thos	6-1	93	R. Stephenson
7 Glam. Girl	8-1	58	Art Wilson
5 Who's Who	10-1	66	Jack Adams
2 Clean Quick	10-1	53	Ted Lippold
8 Just a Go By	12-1	71	Fred Street

GOODIE GOODIE BOY seems to have recovered from his back injury of the winter and should score handily here. SWEET AND LUCKY will be dangerous. DREAMY EYES always a threat.

FIFTH RACE—5-16 MILE

CRAG'S PAL, LUCKY TOM, YOUNG MABEL

5 Crag's Pal	3-1	64	M. T. Dubiel
1 Lucky Tom	4-1	64	G. H. Rogers
8 Young Mabel	4-1	53	Fred Street
4 Puddles	6-1	69	Cedar P. Ken.
3 Troy Actor	8-1	63½	Forbe Spencer
7 Rich Red	10-1	56	F. L. Bruns
2 Casco	10-1	62	R. Stephenson
6 Court Sense	12-1	69½	Pat Gavan

CRAG'S PAL is being heightened out and seems the logical choice here. Though LUCKY TOM'S win race was a dandy, YOUNG MABEL paid a big price to win its last and should be in the money.

SIXTH RACE—FUTURITY

DONEGAL'S PRIDE, MORDAUNT'S CHUM, LITTLE MITT

1 Donegal's Pr.	3-1	55	M. J. Gavan
2 Mord'r's Chum	4-1	57½	Pat Gavan
6 Little Mitt	4-1	62	E. Harmon
5 Greylick	6-1	69	M. C. Sparks
3 First Officer	8-1	61	Ernest Rhine
8 Tipsver	10-1	60	Cedar P. Ken.
7 Tony Boy	10-1	63½	Fred Street
8 Ritzy And'w	12-1	73	Jack Adams

This breath of Erin, DONEGAL'S PRIDE, won like a true Irishman last out and figures to repeat. MORDAUNT'S CHUM ran not better than his last and will serve with LITTLE MITT.

SEVENTH RACE—5-16 MILE

LOU ANN, RENAISSANCE, SWEET COFFEY

8 Lou Ann	3-1	64	Fred Palermo
6 Renaissance	4-1	67	Pat Gavanes
4 Sweet Coffey	4-1	45	Pat Conway
5 Alma Darling	6-1	55	M. J. Gavan
1 Dirk	8-1	67½	Forbe Spencer
2 Demure	10-1	66½	Oscar Dahlberg
7 Cl'd Azzie	10-1	51	Jack Adams
3 Black Moon	12-1	64½	G. Lippold, Jr.

LOU ANN wasn't her best in her last but this would seem the spot for the RENAISSANCE can do better. SWEET COFFEY has the speed to take it all.

EIGHTH RACE—FUTURITY

MISS BAILAY, FERN LAKE, BUDDY O

7 Miss Bailey	3-1	58	O. A. B. Kel
1 Fern Lake	4-1	57	Otto Wohlauf
4 Buddy'rs	4-1	61	C. A. Rhodes
5 Up End	6-1	57	Seekonk Ken.
3 Legal Court	8-1	67	E. Harmon
8 Fairyside Vic	10-1	63	L. K'patrick
2 Jerry Hicks	10-1	64	J. Highhouse
6 Traffic Glen	12-1	64	Frank Lane

MISS BAILAY comes from a smart kennel and is reported ready to score. FERN LAKE won her last and will be dangerous, with another winner, BUDDY'S O, to be overlooked.

NINTH RACE—5-16 MILE

MIDNIGHT LILY, HURRY BY, TRULY CLASSY TRAFFIC

7 Midnight Lily	3-1	52	Ted Lippold
2 Hurry By	4-1	50	Fred Street
1 Truly	4-1	61	Seekonk Ken.
4 Miraculous	6-1	54	M. C. Sparks
5 Lassie Larry	8-1	51½	G. Lippold, Jr.
3 Penna	10-1	54½	W. L. Bryant
6 Bright Hope	10-1	50	R. Stephenson
8 Haberdasher	12-1	67	Oscar Dahlberg

MIDNIGHT LILY rates a strong call on the form and seems sure to break fairly in will. HURRY BY will be dangerous. TRULY for what's left.

TENTH RACE—5-16 MILE

CRUSADER CARESS, MARY COLLINS, CLASSY TRAFFIC

7 Crusader Car	3-1	65	C. A. Rhodes
1 Mary Collins	4-1	50	J. B. Haire
3 Classy Traf.	4-1	54	F. Brants
6 Bravesierra	6-1	58	F. B. Stutz
5 Mesuda	8-1	69	R. Stephenson
8 Doering	10-1	63½	W. L. Bryant
2 Tony Tucker	10-1	54	G. H. Rogers
4 Black Cash	12-1	57	Ted Lippold

CRUSADER CARESS has the necessary form to win the race here, although MARY COLLINS could be a live wire and CLASSY TRAFFIC a strong contender, too.

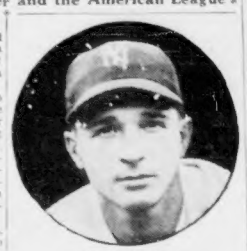
Yanks Pulled Boner In Selling McQuinn

By JOE CASHMAN

The sad and shocking news that Lou Gehrig is the victim of infantile paralysis adds a new chapter to the strange baseball saga of George McQuinn, soft-spoken Virginian who is currently appearing at the Fens as the St. Louis Browns' first-sacker and the American League's leading hitter.



JOE BEGGS
Back in brush

For nine years McQuinn and Gehrig have been the principals in a drama which demonstrates that truth can be a lot stranger than fiction.

A Yankee farmer from 1931 to 1938, McQuinn's ambitions to be the Bambers' regular first-sacker were frustrated by an amazing healthy, durable and able Gehrig.

And it now develops that McQuinn is with a last-place club instead of being the hero of an outfit galloping toward its fourth straight pennant because of a Gehrig stricken by a dread malady.

For, according to the doctors, Larrupin' Lou has been ill for two years or since the spring of '37, when all the Yanks had to do to get McQuinn was reach over to their Newark farm and take him.

UNAWARE OF LOU'S ILLNESS

That's just what they would have done, too, had anybody the slightest idea of the seriousness of Lou's condition.

There probably isn't one paralysis victim in a thousand who isn't aware of the awesome fact within a few weeks after he is stricken. Gehrig, possessing the extraordinary courage which made him the exception in a thousand, McQuinn was allowed to remain in Newark until he was drafted by the Browns in the fall of '37.

More than that, the Yankee bosses offered a fervent prayer of thanks when the St. Louis entry gave them $7500 for the first-sacker they'd gladly give $50,000 to have back today.

In fact at the time, both clubs were accused of being partners in a bit of business that was unethical, if not slightly irregular.

It was all due to Commissioner Landis deciding, after draft claims had been entered, that Pitcher Joe Beggs of Newark was subject to draft.

BROWNS HAD FIRST PICK

The Browns, having first pick that year and bidding for McQuinn, could have taken Beggs instead. And every baseball man in a position to know anything about it asserted they'd be crazy if they didn't take this 20-victory hurler in preference to a first-sacker who had been tried and found wanting as a major leaguer by the Reds.

The Brownies, however, went through with their request for McQuinn and, by so doing, saved Beggs for the Yanks, since the rule is that not more than one player can be drafted from one club.

Immediately, the other A. L. managers screamed to high heaven. Picking McQuinn in preference to Beggs, they said, was ridiculous, especially since the Browns were desperately in need of pitchers and weren't badly off at first base.

They even voiced the suspicion that the Browns received far more than McQuinn as a reward for keeping Beggs safe for the Yanks and were in favor of Judge Landis making an investigation.

Nothing came of it, however, and the magnates don't like to be reminded of it now.

For you couldn't get McQuinn now for five pitchers like Beggs.

The Yanks brought Beggs up last season. He couldn't get anybody out and was sent back while McQuinn stuck to hit .324 for the Browns.

Beggs failed again with the varsity this spring, while McQuinn at this writing is top stickler in the loop with a mark of close to .360.

If the Brownies picked McQuinn because they figured he'd be a more valuable asset than Beggs, they were very much right.

If the Yanks influenced the selection in any way, they were extremely dumb.

A master in the field as well as a demon at bat, McQuinn has become the loop's outstanding first-sacker. In victory or defeat, he's the spark plug of this cellar club from the Mound City.

He went hitless as Elden Auker was leading the Sox to an 8 to 1 victory over the Missourians in the Tuesday opener of the current series, but he came back yesterday to collect a single off Joe Heving and a double off Emerson Dickman as rookie John Kramer whitewashed the Hose, 6 to 0.

His single marked the end of Heving, who, making his first start of the season, was found for seven hits and four runs in less than three innings. His double was the centerpiece of a two-run rally in the eighth.

There's nothing surprising about McQuinn's hitting. He's been a better-than-average sticker for years. He batted .345 for Albany in the Eastern League back in '32. The next season he hit .357 at Binghamton. He hit .331 at Toronto in '34, .329 with the same club in '36 and, .330 his last year at Newark.

But Gehrig, well and sick, kept him out of New York.

"That feller Fenran is sure makin' up the races is making my life miserable. I hear that he's planning some 7-furlong of a mile races. Haven't he think that a poor little stuffed bunny might get out of breath? But I keep in good shape, so I don't care if he puts them in there over ten miles. I'll come in by best 'em all know."

MAT ACES CLASH ON GARDEN CARD

Tonight all wrestling roads lead to the Boston Garden, where a host of stars, headed by Steve Casey, world's champion, and Ben Shalom, 264-pound champion of Palestine, headline a benefit tournament.

Shalom, one of the biggest men in professional sports, takes on Ernest Franz Heffner, a rough house performer, in one of the feature events. In the other Casey will defend his title against Ed Don George of North Java, N. Y., who has held the title on two occasions.

Other bouts on the long card will be Gus Sonnenberg vs. Danno O'Mahony, Marvin Westenberg vs. Yvon Robert, Bob Russell vs. Manuel Cortez, Charley Strack vs. Hymie Olson, Whitey Grovo vs. Jim Casey, Pat Reilly vs. Tom Casey.

Five of the men, O'Mahony, Sonnenberg, George, Westenberg and Robert are former champions of the world and all have their eyes on the title again. Not all of them can win so the list of contenders will be thinned out a lot when it is over.

The Shalom-Heffner match should be a sizzler from the sound of the opening bell. Shalom is one of the strongest men in the business and also one of the biggest. Heffner, while smaller, is one of the roughest. The fireworks should go off during this bout. Shalom is slightly favored to win.

Casey will have his hands full in tackling George.

The meeting of Danno O'Mahony and Gus Sonnenberg should be interesting. The only other time they met Danno was the winner and many think he will repeat his performance.

Westenberg and Robert stand out as two evenly matched men. Both have held the title and both are after it again.

Harvard Commencement—The dignity of higher education was never more beautifully portrayed than here . . . with 2315 graduates parading in cap and gown beneath the ancient elms of Harvard yard, under old grilled windows that already have looked out on so many generations of youngsters . . . youngsters who faced the world with chins up, their eyes on the skies.
